Getting stuck feeling like you should be getting all this, you're not doing as well as others, why can't you get it? All of these judgments are a way to control the insecurity of being in Conscious incompetence. Can you awaken your curiosity to celebrate the things you don't know and not see catastrophe as the inevitable outcome of not knowing?

All of these movements are dependent on your Will (legs) participating. You are finding it to be the biggest block. Perhaps being a dancer gives you a sense of control and that control is shutting you down. Could you just be a beginner? Maybe forget that you ever did dance. Just for a bit? What might you find?

This word Dork in the journal. Sounds like a bully to me. Who decides what is Dorky?
